

Captain Dave Price is a native of San Jose, CA, and serves as the Commanding Officer, Naval ROTC and Professor of Naval Science at Arizona State University where he teaches courses in leadership, management and ethics. He is a graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy and holds master's degrees in Astronautical Engineering and National Security and Strategic Studies. He is a designated specialist in Space Systems Engineering, Education and Training Management and is a Joint Qualified Officer.

As a Naval Aviator, he has deployed around the world in patrol squadrons flying the P-3C Orion and on aircraft carriers. He participated in combat operations including Desert Storm, Restore Hope, Southern Watch, Iraqi Freedom and Enduring Freedom. His qualifications include Patrol Plane Mission Commander and instructor pilot, Carrier Tactical Action Officer and Strike Group Battle Watch Captain. He served with the U.S. Army in Iraq in 2005 to 2006 as the U.S. advisor to the Head of the Iraqi Navy. He was also privileged to serve as Commanding Officer, Training Squadron 28 from 2002 to 2004 and Commodore, Training Air Wing 4 from 2008 to 2010, qualifying as instructor and standardization pilot in every phase of Primary Flight Training in the T-34C Turbomenter. He has logged over 3500 flight hours in naval aircraft.

Shore assignments include various staff tours and as an assistant professor at the Joint Forces Staff College, National Defense University and Associate Dean of the Graduate School of Engineering and Applied Sciences, Naval Postgraduate School. He has taught graduate courses in military operations, national strategy, fluid dynamics and physics. His personal decorations include the Legion of Merit, Bronze Star Medal and various other personal, campaign and unit awards. His beautiful bride is the former Susan Ann Schneider of Arlington, VA. They are the parents of two adult sons. Their youngest is a student at Arizona State University. Go Devils! The proudest thing he's ever done while serving in the U.S. Navy was to swear in his oldest son as a Marine Corps Officer. Semper Fi!
